

ROBERT L. DARBELNET – AAA, PRESIDENT AND CEO

APPOINTED TO THE AAA BOARD OF DIRECTORS IN 2005.

Robert L. Darbelnet is president and CEO of AAA, a not-for-profit federation of 50 motor clubs that serves more than 53 million members in the United States and Canada.

Darbelnet became AAA president and CEO in November 1994, after serving 11 years as CEO of CAA-Quebec. He began his AAA career as an emergency road service driver for the Quebec Automobile Club in 1973.

Darbelnet is a past Chairman of ITS America and the Alliance Internationale de Tourisme (AIT) based in Geneva. He served as Deputy President for Mobility of the FIA (Fédération Internationale de l'Automobile) from 2001 to 2005, as an elected member of the FIA Senate from 1997 to 2005, as President of FIA Region III from 2005 to 2009 and as Trustee of the FIA Foundation from 2003 to 2011. Darbelnet currently serves as Chairman of the Global Mobility Alliance and trustee of the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety.

Darbelnet is a graduate of Sainte-Foy College and Laval University in Quebec City.